THE LORD'S SUPPER--A FAMILY AFFAIR

Rev. S. G. Norris, President

This ordinance left us by Jesus has great significance. It, of course, is to be taken in a very sincere manner and not unworthily or in a light-hearted vein. With deep appreciation we remember the Lord's sacrifice, crucifixion. To partake of the bread and wine also testifies that we have not forgotten His death until He comes again. I wish, however, in this short message to emphasize the importance of the "family" or the need of unity in the body of Christ, His church.

the blood must be sprinkled or the death angel would not pass over that home. God wanted them to be one nation, one family, His holy people of that day. "They shall take of the blood"... "They shall eat the flesh"... "Let nothing remain." If any portion was left over... "burn it with fire!" In other words...no snacks...no lunches...no individual piece-meals. God made it a penalty of death if this great feast of "the family" was broken.

THE MEANING FOR TODAY

THE OLD TESTAMENT PASSOVER

In Matthew 25:17-28 and also in Mark 14:22 we see that Jesus actually partook of the Old Testament passover with His disciples, and as soon as this feast was over, He immediately instituted the Lord's Supper or communion. This was deliberate. He was in no hurry. The Jewish Feast of the Passover was a solemn affair and those disciples must have realized, that this New Testament ordinance had something to do with the Passover, only in a greater capacity.

Let's look at the original Passover as recorded in Exodus 12. The Hebrews were still in Egyptian bondage. Nine plagues had failed to loosen Pharaoh's grip on their nation. Then came the tenth curse, the death of the first-born in every household. Even the Jews were not exempt as they were in the previous plagues.

This was a family affair! It was a command to the entire congregation of Israel. This was their first national feast. Prior to this the twelve tribes had a rather individual identity, but now God was trying to make them into a nation. This feast represented, among other things - unity! It opposed division! An individual could not partake of the Passover alone. It was to be celebrated with the family..... and "if the household be too little, let him and his neighbour... take it according to the number of the souls." The family was protected by the "blood door". Hebrew or not.

The Lord gave His life for the church. Yes, individually we all came in through the "blood door" by Acts 2:38, but from that time on we must operate as the body of Christ. If the blood of the lamb in Exodus heralded unity for Israel, how much more the blood of Jesus Christ proclaims unity in the church which is called by His name.

Paul was shocked ( I Cor. 11:18) because of divisions at Corinth. Note the individual acts of selfishness...one taketh his own supper...one is hungry...and another is drunken. They had lost the original meaning of the Passover. The church was torn apart. Heresies existed. Gehazi's nonchalant spirit of, "I could care less" prevailed until some were sick and others had died prematurely. Paul's admonition was strong in this chapter, trying to awaken the Corinthians as to the very first principle of Communion - that of unity. May the dear Lord help us in this hour of individualism in the church, in society and even on a national scale, that we be willing to work together as a "Holy Nation". Every Pentecostal church needs unity, for by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body. The "foot", the "eye", the "ear" must all work together for the glory of God and strength in His house. We need each other as never before. Christ is coming back after his family. Let us humble ourselves and remember we came in through the "blood door". It will open again soon and we shall see the Lord that saved our souls.

A Glorious Hope

JACK RAY
Keyser, W. Va.
Senior Class President

Soon after Israel's victory in the Middle East, General Moshe Dayan, military leader of the Israeli Army, made this statement: "We have returned to our holiest of holy places (speaking of the old sector of Jerusalem) never to depart again." To those who could not attend, the eyes of political leaders around the world were on the recent United Nations Security Council meeting in New York, waiting to see if the council would demand Israel to return to her original boundaries of June 5th. Then, if these were the demands, would Israel comply? Now that Israel does occupy Jerusalem, the place her heart has "panted after" for 2,000 years, nation after nation arose in the Security Council meeting accusing Israel as the aggressor and demanding the Jews to return to their boundaries before the war. Now that Israel is there, the majority of the world wants her out.

Then I think of the church, in its war against sin and its march towards the New Jerusalem. But there is an enemy, an army of demons, led by the devil himself trying to keep us from occupying the Holy City. But the Church, unlike the nation of Israel, once it marches into the Pearly White City and possesses the land, doesn't have to worry about the enemy demanding that we return to "our original boundaries before the Rapture" or giving up our newly conquered territory. Oh no, a thousand times no! I Thess. 4:17 tells us that once we enter this city, "so shall we ever be with the Lord."

Praise the Lord! The devil knows that once we occupy the New Jerusalem there is no way he can get us out. So every once in a while down here he throws up a blockade in our pathway in an attempt to keep us from marching in to victory. In defense, we pray, we touch God, He touches us, we overcome. Jesus said (Rev. 3:18) "...to Him that overcometh will I grant to sit with me in my throne!"

In the crowding hours of the setting sun, let us put on the whole armour of God and fight, fight, fight! Then when Jesus comes we shall receive a crown of glory that fadeth not away.
